

ENTERING THE HIGH HOLIDAY SEASON THROUGH TEXT STUDY & SPIRITUAL WRITING

Tuesdays, 7:30-9:30 PM

Aug. 10, 17, 24, 31

At the Segal/Bridge Home

This 4-session course taught by Rabbi Melissa Klein & Tamara Cohen begins on Rosh Chodesh Elul, the start of the High Holiday season, a time for reflection, return and renewal. Each week our class includes study of a traditional text and creative writing inspired by our learning. Bring a journal and favorite pen to class. No Hebrew knowledge assumed.

$54 for GJC Members

$72 for Non-Members

Advanced registration necessary.

Contact Julie at office@germantownjewishcentre.org or Ext 10

ELUL
A Time To Reflect

Rabbi Melissa Klein was ordained by the Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, and she has been a member of GJC for many years. She loves Torah study, Jewish ritual, and writing, and strives to incorporate spiritual practice into her daily life.

Tamara Cohen has found GJC to be a wonderful new center of her Jewish life since relocating a year ago. She has been teaching, writing and exploring Jewish spirituality for many years. She is the editor of the Ma'yan feminist haggadah, a contributing editor of Praytell: A Hadassah Guide to Jewish Prayer, and a contributor to Beginning Anew: A Woman's Companion to the High Holidays. She deeply appreciates the generosity of the month of Elul and welcomes the opportunity to share its richness with others.

Germantown Jewish Centre

400 West Ellet Street
Philadelphia, PA 19119
215-844-1507

www.germantownjewishcentre.org